

Hey there, sunshine! 😊

As we enjoy the summer sunshine, the NSCP project team is here to brighten your day further with our weekly progress update on the transforming the front door of children's services project.

Mission Control: Latest Update! 🤖

Our test teams are diligently exploring the depths of the big test, and we are looking forward to sharing our findings with you at our next Show and Tell presentation. Until then, fasten your seatbelts, fellow stargazers, as the journey of discovery is just beginning!

Our next Show and Tell 🗣️

Originally scheduled for August 22nd, our next Show and Tell meeting clashed with holiday breaks. So, we've rescheduled it to the 12th September. Mark your calendars! Invitations have already been sent out, but if you know anyone keen to join, please let us know and we'll add them to the guest list.

Here's a quick recap for those new to our Show and Tell meetings: These regular gatherings allow team members to share their work with those outside the team, providing insights and inviting feedback. It's a chance for the team to showcase their achievements, lessons learned, and future plans. This creates a valuable feedback loop where everyone - including you! - can ask questions, build connections, and influence the direction of the work.

Summer Break 🌻

As summer approaches, we're hitting pause on our weekly updates. But don't worry, we'll be back soon with even more news and updates to share! Testing will continue, but we won't be making any changes through this break period so won't have anything to update you on. Enjoy the break and stay tuned!
